Building Permits Lead Index Growth

The South Carolina Leading Index (SCLI) rose another 0.35 points in June, as a rapid increase in building permits displayed potential signs of recovery in the state's construction sector. In addition to this 36.2 percent monthly increase in building starts, the SCLI's increase to a value of 99.38 also witnessed positive performance in every contributing factor for only the third time in the past two years, including decreases in the number of initial claims for Unemployment Insurance as well as increases in the Dow Jones Composite Average.

June's figure marks the fourth straight month the Leading Index has improved since reaching a nadir of 98.34 in February. The SCLI - a measurement used to forecast the state's economic status for the next three-to-six months - was first introduced in October 2008 and has been calculated relative to a base value of 100 in January 2000.

South Carolina Employment

Non-Seasonally Adjusted Wage and Salary Employment

After three consecutive months of increases, nonfarm employment declined in June by 7,100 jobs. This decrease was led by a contraction in state government of 4,900 positions, associated with the seasonal reduction of public school workforce during the summer months. While Manufacturing and Construction underwent moderate job loss, Retail Trade lost 3,600 jobs.

Sectors that added positions include the tourism-driven Leisure and Hospitality sector along with the Administrative Support sector, which includes temporary staffing agencies. Versus a year ago, total nonfarm employment in South Carolina is down 92,700 jobs.

Initial UI Claims Continue to Fall

Initial claims for Unemployment Insurance in South Carolina mirrored the nation with an initial spike the first week of June followed by a leveling to between 8,600 and 9,500 claims for the remainder of the month.

As anticipated, initial claims for the first two weeks of July spiked both statewide and nationally as the standard summer shutdown of automotive and other manufacturing subsectors placed workers on UI rolls temporarily. In South Carolina, this spike represented a 51 percent increase as initial claims rose to 15,165 the week ending July 11th. Nationally, the US witnessed a 15 percent increase over the previous week as claims spiked to 671,242 for the week ending July 11th.
